

SANDRA L. BLACK
(M2000 F2007)

Sandra Black is an interim Board Member and Fellow in the Radio Club. She is also the Founder and President of EMR Consulting, Inc., an rf and FCC consulting firm located in Indiana that provides regulatory, engineering, network implementation and project management services to a host of companies and public safety entities. Sandra has membership in various industry clubs and organizations. Sandra is a very active member in the Club, having worked the booth at trade shows on numerous occasions, chaired the marketing committee, and she is responsible for signing up a number of new members. Her Company is a sponsor of the APCO Breakfast. She supports the communications industry with her free, independent time. Her eighteen years in the wireless industry and over nine years of devoted activity in the Radio Club are characterized by her passionate service to the radio industry.

Position Statement

I am 100% committed to the RCA foundation and its growth for new membership. I believe fervently in the core mission of the Radio Club, to promote and honor the radio art and its every changing landscape. I also believe that the Radio Club should be an organization without animosity, without competing interests, and without personal ego. I would like the membership to embrace promising technologies and promote new talent and hold tight to our foundation that each member is valued. I believe all members should be supportive of the Club's foundation and supportive of each of its members, treating all with respect while we work together to improve and move forward the shared goals of the Club. If elected, I would do these things by example and I promise my energy, commitment, and passion towards the Radio Club and its future.